

Greetings,

The Holy Spirit, a gift abiding with me.

Fourteen months, 21 days; every day, waiting patiently, correcting my slow comprehension to His guidance of unearthing the beautiful words...

“Love Breathes A Song of Loves”

May all, glory be to our Lord and savior Jesus Christ.

With praise, may all believers rekindle the fire in their hearts for their first love.

May we all pray to awaken the non believer to the wonderful saving grace of Jesus Christ.

Let all praise Jesus who saveth the soul.

Starting today, in the will of God, we are claiming the lost soul.

Heaven's treasure, more precious than rubies and gold, excavating all lost souls for Jesus.

Our calling, come with me soul mining, praying and singing his praise to the whole world.

How many souls can we claim for Jesus?

I ask for help to add melody to this song in every genre.

Please share these lyrics with all persons musically inclined or not.

God blessings, a season of love, peace and truth to you.
